Killed In Action

STAFF SGT. JOHN H. WALLACE

This excellent photo of Sgt. Wallace was made shortly before he left the United States last December with a squadron of bomber planes for the war in the South Pacific.

FATHER IS NOTIFIED SUNDAY OF SONS DEATH

Staff Sgt. John H. Wallace was killed in action over enemy lines in the Southwest Pacific area in recent operations of the United States Army Air Corps, his father, E. A. Wallace, was notified by telegram Sunday from the War Department.

The message came Sunday morning. Mr. Wallace, widely known lawyer, and prominent bar member, was at his office over the First National Bank Building and the telegram was delivered to the Wallace home on 13th street and was read around 11 a. m.

The telegram announcing the death of Sgt. Wallace, came from General Ulio, Adjutant General of the army and read as follows: "The Secretary of War desires me to express his deep regret that your son, Staff Sgt John H. Wallace, was killed in action in defense of his country in the Southwest Pacific area."

There was no message to indicate the date on which Sgt. Wallace lost his life. The action may have been in the recent battle of the Bismarck Sea or subsequent air activities over the Japanese held Islands in the defensive arch above Australia.

News of the death of Sgt. Wallace was received here with grief among all the people. Friends of the family visited the Wallace home throughout the day to express their deep sympathy.

Mr. Wallace, deeply affected by the news of the death of his son, was able to be at his office Monday morning. He had dispatched a cable to Lt. Wm. C. Wallace, another son, now in Australia, seeking more details on the death of Sgt. Wallace.

TUNISIAN BATTLE IS PRONOUNCED FIZZLE

The much hearlded Allied offensive in Tunsia was just another failure Thursday as the Geramns began counter attacking.

News commentators tried hard to make the campaign look progressive but had to admit there is little to say except that the drive has been slowed down and the British have been thrown back at the Mareth Line.

The Americans, it seemed had made slight advances east of Maknassy and General George Patton, old blood and guts, was bobbing around trying to get through to the sea.

An artillery duel was in progress. Any delay in the fight is in favor of Rommel.

The Red Army was within 32 miles of Smolensk and a communication from Mascow said that Russian lines are still intact at Kharkov.

The Royal Air Force kept up bombing raids over Germany and France.

RED CROSS QUOTA NOT YET REACHED

Milam county was still short of its goal in the Red Cross Emergency War Fund drive.

The total reported thus far is $5200. The total amount alloted to the county is in excess of $7000.

F. G. Blake, director of the war fund drive said that a considerable amount of the sum yet to be raised is in sight and workers are continuing the campaign.

The plan in the beginning was for exceeding the quota and while the first tabulation discloses that goal is around $2200 away, there was little doubt the $7400 quota will be raised.

The final all out offensive to drive the Germans out of North Africa was begun Saturday night.

Lieut. Sam Oliver Is Red Cross Contributor; Sends Check Here

Lt. Sam Oliver, United States Army Air Corps, at Brooks Field in San Antonio, has just sent F. G. Blake, a contribution to the American Red Cross War Fund drive.

Lt. Oliver is an instructor at Brooks Field and is rapidly becoming one of the nation's bset men in the skies. He attended A & M College and was born and reared at Buckholts.

Lt. Oliver, in the letter to Mr. Blake, says that he has contributed to the war fund there and the Red Cross quota at Brooks Feild is $20,000. He sets a fine example for the people here. When men in service are concernd over Red Cross War Fund quotas the people should be thoroughly aroused.

Milam county was still short of its quota.

Chamber Commerce Asks City to Take Down Stop Light

The Chamber of Commerce at a recent meeting, voted to petition the City Council to discontinue the use of the traffic light now in service where the main hightway turns.

Several points were brought out under discussion of the motion that influenced its passinge. For one, it was asserted that the light is now more of a hazard than a safeguard since it is ignored by many local residents, and the reason it is now ignored by some is that traffic has fallen off to such a marked degree, it often happens when a car comes to a stop on the red light there are no other cars in sight in either direction.

These facts coupled with the rubber and gasoline situation as it now is and with the fact that this same step is being taken all over the country to conserve gasoline and rubber, influenced the Chamber of Commerce to petition the City Aldermen.

CAPT. CLINTON BREEDING

CAPT. CLINTON BREEDING IN BATTLE OVER GERMANY

Capt. Clinton Breeding, United States Aarmy Air Corps, has been in England for several months and recently figured prominently in a detailed dispatch by Gladwin Hill of the Associated Press.

The occasion was the now famous raid on Wilhelmshaven by American Flying Fortresses and Liberator 4 motored bombers.

Capt. Breeding was the co-pilot on the ship which carried Mr. Hill over the lines. A number of other correspondents for other news agencies went along for the story as well.

Mr. Hill in the beginning of his dispatch said: "From the cockpit of a plane which led an American air armada in its third attack on Germany today I watched bombs from Flying Fortresses and Liberators blast the docks at Wilhelmshaven, one of the Nazis' principal naval bases."

Capt. Breeding was reared in Cameron, graduating from Yoe High School. He was President of the Graduating Class and among the five high students. He was also captain of the football team.

Mrs. Breeding lives in Waco. The Waco News-Tribune published a lengthy story on the raid and gave the following interesting angle on the reaction there to his exploit over the lines in Germany.

Capt. Breeding is the grandson of C. F. Spiller of Cameron and the photo from which the cut was made was brought to the Herald by Mr. Spiller.

Mrs. Clinton W. Breeding was called to a telephone while a one act play she was directing was in progress Friday night and was informed that her husband had helped carry out the big U. S. air raid on Wilhelmshaven Friday afternoon.

"Did he return safely?" she asked. When informed that he had, she breathed a sigh of relief and said, "Gee, I'm so glad."

Mrs. Breeding is connected with the drama department at Baylor University. She is the former Miss Jean Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa W. Warner, 3026 Maple avenue. Breeding is the son of Mrs. J. J. Bayard of Dallas.

He is a graduate of Cameron High School and attended Baylor University for three years. While at Baylor he served as president of the Nose Brotherhood, president of the Esquire Club and a member of the Baylor Chamber of Commerce.

He enlisted in the air corps in April 1941, and was called to service in July of that year. He received his basic training at Hix Field, Fort Worth, and his primary training at Goodfellow field, San Angelo. From there he was transfered to Brooks Field, San Antonio, where he graduated and received his commission as a second lieutenant Feb. 20, 1942. On that same date he was married to Miss Warner in an evening ceremony at the Austin Avenue Methodist church.

33 Schools Here Sign For Lunch Program

A school lunch meeting was held in district court room here Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Representatives from 33 schools were present and contracts were signed for the government lunch room program under the new plan. Schools are required to contribute more since surplus foods have been taken away.

Granville G. Weaver represented the Food Distribution Administration.

MEAT QUOTA IS TWO POUNDS PER WEEK

The Office of Price Administration at noon Wednesday announced the allowable on meats and kindred products to go under ration next Sunday morning at 1 o'clock.

This will give the hoarders plenty of time to stock up.

Sixteen points are allowed per person per week and 8 points will buy one pound of Porterhouse steak. It is presumed this is the basis middling for buying meat and anything under Porterhouse will be correspondingly lower in point value.

Based on the broadcast of the ration fomula here are the products and their point values, meaning you can buy one pound each of the named items for the point value set opposite:

Porterhouse Steak lb.	8 points
Canadian Bacon, lb.	11 points
Hamburger Meat, lb.	5 points
Tripe, lb.	3 points
Shortening, lb.	5 points
Butter, lb.	8 points
Cheese, lb.	8 points
Bacon with rind, lb.	8 points

These are only a few examples of how point values are fixed. The expendables of democracy were wondering about side meat and all the lower strata stuff that sustains the average man. There will be no Tripe and nobody can buy a Porterhouse steak.

Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn Highlight Film Week

Teamed again as the result of one of the hits of the current year in "Woman of the Year," Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn figures in tense drama in "Keeper of the Flame" to show at the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Adapted from I. A. R. Wylie's best-selling novel, "Keeper of the Flame" gives Tracy the characterization of a war correspondent, returned to America after being ousted from several European countries for telling the truth, and assigned to write a life story of a famous American leader, recently killed in an accident.

In his investigation Tracy meets the young and beautiful widow of the dead man, and falls in love with her. Miss Hepburn plays the latter role, and dramatic complications ensue when, she is not frank with the newspaperman, he comes to suspect her of complicity in her husband's death, and is torn between love and conscience. A sensational discovery and crashing dramatic climax, solves the problem.

Tracy's role is sometimes whimsical, sometimes grimly dramatic, and Miss Hepburn rises to emotional heights in the gripping climax. Richard Whorf, newcomer from the Broadway stage, plays a sinister role compellingly, and Margaret Wycherly, Audrey Christie, Horace McNally, Donald Meek, Frank Craven and Darryl Hickman are among the principals.

Geo. Zukor directed with skill that brings out many shadings of delicate human interest, and interesting photography was provided by Wm. Daniels. A vivid musical score by Bronislau Kaper enhances the dramatic moments.

March 31 is Deadline For Tire Inspection

Milam County motorists with "A" mileage ration books were reminded today by J. M. Boehner, Community Service Chanrman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, that March 31, is the deadline for initial inspection of their tires under the Office of Price Administration's program of periodic examinations to extend the life of casings now on cars.

"Many already have had the inspections made but those who have not can be a help to themselves and to the busy operators of inspection stations by going in as soon as possible in order to avoid a last-minute rush," Mr. Boehner said.

"The ordinary inspection takes no longer than an oil change," the Board Chairman said, "and inspections generally pay dividends in the form of added tire mileage for the motorist. In many cases, expert examination has disclosed the need of repairs and recapping to drivers who were not aware that their tires needed any attention."

There was silence in Tunisia. General George Patton, known as "old blood and guts," has been placed in command by General Eisenhower and was on the move. Patton, a whiskey drinker, has laid off his liquor and tobacco until he marches through.

WASHINGTON
By CONGRESSMAN POAGE

The House has just taken a most important step in connection with the increasingly serious food problem We have just passed the "Pace" bill which requires the inclusion of farm labor costs in the parity formula. I realize that this bill will of itself fall far short of solving the food problem, but will help. It is surely fair. On Sept. 7, 1942, President Roosevelt said "Calculations of parity must include all cost of production, including the cost of labor." This statement of the President was 100 per cent correct at the time he made it, and it is still correct even though he has since that time listened to bad advice and has retracted his statement.

We all know that we don't have enough labor. We know that this bill won't cure the manpower problem, but it will help our farmers to keep a large part of the labor resources of the nation on our farms. There have been many more men leave the farm to go into industry than have gone into the armed services. Of course, this bill can not affect the men who have gone to the army, but if the payment of higher wages has been successful in drawing labor to the shipyards, the airplane factories and munition plants, why should it not help to apply the same rule to the farm?

I think that we did much to aggravate the farm problem by the establishment of an exhorbitant industrial wage scale. But we must waste no more time crying over spilt milk. We can give some help even at this late hour by enabling the farmer to get all costs of production. If he does not get all his cost, it seems obvious to me that he can not be expected to continue to produce. If this bill which includes the cost of labor and the bill which recently passed the Senate to prohibit the deduction of soil conservation payments become laws, we will have at least established a more reasonable formula to measure fair farm prices than we have heretofore had. We will then have taken steps that should help to secure fair prices for farmers, fair wages for farm workers, and a fairly adequate supply of food for city people.

In connection with this bill, I feel that is is interesting to note that at this moment the industrial workers of America are spending a smaller percentage of their wages for food than at any time in the history of this country. In 1914 the average income of the non-farm family was $1013, of which $334 or 330 per cent was spent for food. In August last year the average income of the non-farm family was $2366, of which only $514 or 22 per cent was spent for food. In 1918-19 farm prices went twice as high as they are today, and those prices got production, and as I see it, that is the most vital need at this time. I have at all times supported this measure, and of course I voted for it.

Earlier in the week we spent two days debating an appropriation bill providing funds for the recruitment and placement of farm labor. In the past this work has been carried on by the Farm Security Administration. This agency has apparently been a great deal more interested in "social reform" than it has in the farm labor problem. For instance, the FSA insisted that farmers must pay for cotton picking by the hour rather than by the pound. Congress, like the people, felt that a labor placement agency should just at this time confine itself to the securing of labor for farmers and jobs for laborers. We, therefore, took the work of the hands of the FSA and gave it to the extension service. No agency is going to be able to secure all labor needed, and I realize that this is going to place a terrible burden on the county agents, but I believe that the work will be much more efficiently administered. One vital amendment was adopted to the bill prohibiting the transportation of any agricultural worker out of a county without the consent of the county agent. Of course, this does not mean that anyone may not leave any community on his own and go wherever he pleases, but it does mean that the government will not spend public money to induce laborers who are needed in a county to leave and go somewhere else.

Still a third vital farm bill was passed early this week when the House voted to allow the sale of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat belonging to the Commodity Credit Corporation for feed at a price equal to corn parity. This means that the wheat will be sold for about forty cents less than the market price of wheat for milling purposes. Last year 125,000,000 bushels of wheat were sold for 85 per cent of corn parity. That helped and this authorization should help to meet the feed problem which I realize is most serious.

WOMEN AT WAR

Augusta

Augusta Travers—you know, the one who runs the little hat shop down on Main Street—she's always been dead set against gambling in any form. Never will forget when I was a kid and she found little Hammy, her youngest nephew, playing marbles for keeps out back of the shop. Took it on herself to give him a whaling and point out the evils of gambling. She's a strict woman, Augusta, real strict. Good as gold, of course. But mighty set against the lighter things of life.

Well, so you could have knocked us all over with a feather when Augusta started her gambling campaign for War Bonds and Stamps, right out in the window of her shop. First she got hold of the photographs of every boy here in town who's joined up, and pasted them on a big board in the window, with little American flags at the corners. Half the town was down there watching her do it. She left the middle empty. Then she brought out a placard she'd had printed up and put it in the middle, and this is what it said: "These are the Local Boys who have enlisted in America's War—They are betting that you are buying War Bonds and Stamps—Hitler and the Japs are betting you aren't—Place your bets inside."

My wife couldn't wait to get herself down there and inside Augusta's shop to see what in the wide world had happened to her, turning right around about gambling like that. You know my wife. She kind of likes to talk. She went right up to Augusta and said, "Augusta Travers, seems like something's come over you. Why, I never thought I'd see you running a gambling campaign in your own shop."

Mean to tell me it's a gamble whether this country buys enough bonds to win this war?" Augusta asked.

I forgot to say. Wasn't just a hat my wife brought home. Was a hat and a $25 bond.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Reality is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 28.

The Golden Text is: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him" (I Cor. 2:9.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee; . . Then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord, and find the knowledge of God" Prov. 2:1, 5.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit imparts the understanding which uplifts consciousness and leads into all truth" (page 505.)

PENNEY'S 41st ANNIVERSARY

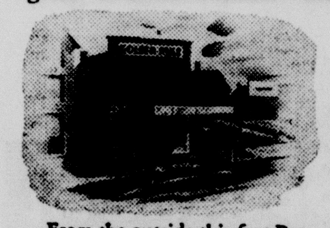
it's lovely dresses... smart pajamas... new clothes for the kids.

NOT just a bolt of Yard Goods, it's much more than that! It's the hundreds of useful and pretty things into which the clever fingers of women can transform it. In a sense, this simple bolt of Yard Goods symbolizes a great American business—the J. C. Penney Company.



Yard Goods were a major part of the stock in trade of Mr. J. C. Penney's first little store—opened 41 years ago in Kemmerer, Wyoming.

From the outside this first Penney store looked far from impressive. Inside, though, people discovered it was different. For it set a new pattern of low-cost retail store service as neighborly and as typically American as ride-sharing and quilting bees!

Mr. Penney didn't think "How much can I take!" but "How much can I give?" He cut out useless frills, charge accounts and deliveries; pared prices to the bone; preferred many sales at small profit to a few at large profit.

THE PENNEY IDEA GREW—TODAY PENNEY STORES DOT THE MAP!

Kemmerer took to that first Penney store! So did Moscow, Idaho later on. And Salt Lake City, Utah. And San Antonio, Texas. And today there are over 1600 Penney stores in all 48 states.

For every hundred dollars worth of sheets, or blankets, or shoes, or yard goods the Penney store sells in Peoria, Illinois or Scranton, Pennsylvania, or Savannah, Georgia, it pays back honest and substantial savings.

For every hundred dresses, or shirts, or overalls it sells in Waltham, Massachusetts, or Stockton, California, or Chillicothe, Ohio, it pays back rich dividends in local salaries, advertising, rent and taxes.

Today Penney stores from Coast to Coast, in neighborly fashion, are helping to balance the household budgets of millions of Americans. Today Mr. Penney's 41 year old idea of success through giving, rather than taking, is still the Penney way.

University of Texas for two years. He then went to New York to become a student in dramatics and made his home with a sister, Mrs. Cornelius Jones, Sculptress.

From his work in dramatic school he gave promise of every success in the drama. For a time he was employed in an art gallery. When his mother became ill in the summer of 1941 he came back to Cameron to be with her. Mrs. Wallace died on Oct. 27, 1941. While in New York, Sgt. Wallace registered for the draft and instructed his registrars for jurisdiction of the Cameron Board.

When war was declared on December 8, 1941, he lost no time getting into service. He was a volunteer and entered the Air Corps of the army. From San Antonio he was transferred to Ellington Field at Houston. He was first attracted to aerial photography but later became a radio gunner.

From Ellington Field, Sgt. Wallace went to Jackson Air Base, at Jackson, Mississippi. In the group transfered to the Jackson air base were Sgt. Frank Richter and Capt. Thomas J. White of Cameron.

At Jackson Sgt. Wallace continued his work in radio and was attached to a bombardment group. The equipment then was the Mitchell B-25 army bomber. The three boys remained in the same outfit for a long time, being seperated finally at MacDill Field at Tampa, Florida. From Jackson the squadron went to Columbia, South Carolina, and later to Meridian, Mississippi. When transfered to MacDill Field Sgt. Wallace continued his radio work and became an instructor.

He left his original squadron, then flying the famous Glenn Martin B-26 for another assignment and was soon overseas.

Sgt. Wallace left the states shortly before Christmas 1942, and went to Australia, landing at Melbourne. He notified his father by letter that he had landed in Australia. The last message that came through was on February 21, 1943. He said they had met the enemy two or three times. "I can't say they are ours at this stage of the game," said Sgt. Wallace in the letter to his father, "nor can I tell you of the gore of the fray," he said.

That was the last word from him. The message here Sunday announced he had been killed in action. The letter on February 21st was prior to the great battle in the Bismarck Sea in which the entire Japanese invasion fleet of 22 ships was wiped out.

Lt. Wm. C. Wallace, brother of Sgt. Wallace was commissioned in the Intelligence Service of the army. He attained this rank from a private and like his brother, was a volunteer, resigning his office as City Attorney here and giving up his law practice for the duration. Lt. Wallace is a law partner of his father, E. A. Wallace. He is attached to the headquarters of General Harmon and a cousin, Colonel Connally is Judge Advocate of that army and it was said here Monday that Lt. Wallace has been transfered to that department.

Sgt. Wallace is survived by his father, E. A. Wallace; a brother, Lt Wm. C. Wallace; two sisters, Mrs. Cornelius Jones of Cameron who is now in New York for treatment by an eye specialist; and Mrs. Dan Collins of Cameron.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

Sam Abernethy always said: "Curiosity may kill a cat – but I'm no cat." Which is Sam's way of saying that when he's curious about something he goes out and gets the facts.

Seems our government feels the same way. After hearing rumors about our soldiers drinking too much–government people went after the facts. They got the evidence on what our boys drink . . . and don't drink.

The government found out our Army's the best behaved in history. More'n half of 'em drink beer–nothing stronger. And the government found that selling 3.2 beer in Army camps is one reason why our Army is so temperate.

From where I sit, there isn't much cause to worry about our men in the Army. Looks like they can take care o' themselves –and take care o' the Nazis and the Japs, too.

ALL TERRITORY LOST BY NAZI IS RETAKEN

About all the United Nations could say Wednesday is that "the situation is confused," as General Rommel, drove our armies back and took most of the territory we had marched over in the past week.

When announcement is made that the "situation is confused," that means a defeat.

Only on one point were the British and Americans holding and that was on the road to Gabes where our armies are within 13 miles of the city.

The Allies were reported to have destroyed 30 tanks in the days operation.

There were no German claims over the victory of Rommel. A few days may be required to clarify the situation. If the Allies have lost all the ground they have taken in the past week there is some 40 to 50 miles in the throw back. This may indicate that Rommel is breaking through that "steel ring" the radio commentators have made sound so impregnable.

There was no news on which could be based an intelligent report. If indications are as usual, we have suffered another defeat.

The Red Army was within 30 miles of Smolensk and the Red Army has beaten off every attempt of the Germans to cross the upper Donets.

The RAF was over Germany and France again and the Americans had carried out heavy air attacks in the Southwest Pacific.

GERMANS SAY THEY HAVE SUNK 32 SHIPS

The Germans said Saturday that 32 Allied ships have been sunk in the Atlantic.

There was no statement indicating the type of ships sunk but it was believed they may have been merchant vessels.

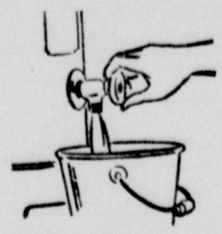
Take Care of your WATER HEATER



Drain the sediment from your water heater tank about once a month.

Don't set the thermostat too high; not over 150 degrees. (This is best for the plumbing, too.)

★★★ Modern gas water heaters are practically fool-proof, and many of you have models with tanks of solid Monel, factory-guaranteed for 10 years against corrosion. But they do need simple care; and new ones are mighty scarce till we win this war.

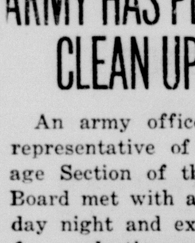
WOMEN AT WAR

Leonora

Leonora straightened the objects on her desk with great care. She had put her desk at the end of her room facing the door so that when her mother came in she would have to cross the whole room under Leonora's stern executive eye to get to her. From movies and pictures in the newspapers Leonora had gotten a good idea of how the desk of a busy woman of affairs should look.

With an important scowl, Leonora picked up a sheet of paper. Now she was two people—herself, the busy woman, and her own stenographer. "Miss Simpkins, take a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, will you?" she murmured under her breath.



"Yes, immediately," she murmured back at herself.

Leonora cleared her throat and looked at the ceiling for inspiration. Miss Simpkins bent over the sheet of paper hanging on the words about to fall.

"Dear Mr. Morgenthau," — "Got that?" — "Yes, madam."

"I am — ahem — thirteen years old and anxious to be of all possible service to the country at this time, ahem!

"I earn a weekly income of from $1.37 to $2.12 by helping with the housework and by shovelling snow. I am at present in possession of one War Savings Bond and am buying stamps weekly. I want to become a member of the 10 percent Club. I feel it to be — ahem — not only my duty, but my privilege' ("How do you spell privilege?" asked Miss Simpkins. "Don't bother me with these details," said Leonora)—my privilege as an American to invest at least ten percent of my income in War Bonds.

Yours truly,"

"Get that off at once, Miss Simpkins," said Leonora. "Yes, Ma'am! You certainly are an important woman, ma'am," said Miss Simpkins.

ARMY HAS PLANS TO CLEAN UP SCRAP HERE

An army officer and a special representative of the General Salvage Section of the War Production Board met with a few citizens Monday night and explained their plans for conducting a drive to clean the county of scrap metal.

All citizens, who might happen to have some scrap metals of any kind, and who wish to sell it for what cash they can get out of it, may do so within the next few weeks. After about four or six weeks, the Army with a bunch of trucks and soldiers will move in to get the rest of it.

Texas quota of scrap iron the first six months of 1943 is 440,000 net tons. Milam County's share of this is more than two thousand tons. They tell us the scrap must come from some where to meet the needs of some mills now shut down due to having no material to carry on.

Our side of the war is going fair at this time, but no one knows what our fighting forces need most any better that our boys in the service. And who can imagine one living among us so selfish, and greedy that he should be unwilling to offer the scrap, that he knows he can never use, to the bays knows he can never use, to the boys selves in fight for our liberty and his. The armed forces are wanting this material bad enough, that our boys in Africa have picked up and shipped back a million and a half tons of scrap since November to again go through the mills for service. These boys in our near by camps are now coming to our homes to get what they can. In all just what are we going to do about it?

Let's get that scrap, and not let it be even thought of, that our fighters came home to see if they could find some ammunition laying around the house, in the yard, or in the fence corners.

S. E. Brogdon,
Committee Chairman.

Wm. Hinkle Raymond Writes From Dutch Harbor, in Alaska

Here is a letter from William Hinkle Raymond, the son of A. J. Raymond of Cameron, written to Wyatt Wolf of Cameron, from Dutch Harbor, Alaska. Hingle is in the United States Navy and attached to a Northwest Pacific base.

Dutch Harbor has been under Japanese attack since the early stages of the war: The letter:

"I have been owing you a letter since we were in R. I. but as we have been on the move so much of the time writing has been quite a problem. Here, of course, we are under censorship and details are out of order.

"I have heard from Buz since we arrived here and he told me of your great loss. May I here extend to you and yours my heart felt sympathy. I sincerely wish there was something I could do or say to lighten your burden of grief. I will say, if there is a Heaven, it was created for people like your mother.

"I am adjusting myself to the place here, Cap. My health is good and I feel fine.

"I would like so much to hear from you. News is scarce here and letters from home are worth so much to us, so drop me a line every chance you have. I am sorry I can't write more in detail."

THE HOG THAT WILL NEVER GO TO MARKET

It's a hog you don't see in this country. Landrace is the breed, a wonderful bacon hog developed in Denmark.

The Danes were just about the very best farmers in the world. They were a thrifty people. Through their farm cooperatives they produced and marketed livestock and farm products of the finest quality.

Successful and happy were these farmers—until one day the Germans came. They took the hog. They took all hogs. They took the butter and the cheese—and the cooperatives too. Like vultures they picked Denmark to the bone.

Remember this story as you market your livestock, crops and other farm produce. Remember it and put every dollar you can into U. S. War Bonds —every dollar you can.

Every dollar in Bonds that you can for your country and for yourself. Your Government needs that money now and you yourself are making a sound investment. The Bonds never depreciate in value. You get a third more than the original cost of the Bonds in ten years. You can always cash the Bonds after sixty days if you need the money. Buy now—at your bank or post office.

BRITISH 8TH ARMY IS THROUGH MARETH LINE

The British 8th Army under General Montgomery has pierced the Mareth Line in east Tunisia and has started a new flanking movement against the Axis forces under General Rommel.

It was said Tuesday at noon that Rommel must soon make his decision on whether to stand and fight or flee to west Tunisia where his supply lines are directly connected with the sea. In this case he would surrender his room to maneuver freely and would face the final days of seige.

At present Rommel is facing a three pronged war, being marched upon by two British, two American and one French army.

Broadcast said the battle was growing in intensity. If the news is as indicated the final battle has come. The Herald believes many weeks and perhaps months will be required to reduce Rommel's army because the German General can fall back into position from which he can be dislodged only if his supply lines across the sea are cut and starvation sets in.

The Russian said their were signs the Germans were letting up in their battle near Kharkov. The Reds were still pushing toward Smolensk.

One Day of War: Russia; March of Time Feature March 25-26

John Prude of the Swift Theatres announced shortly after noon Tuesday that he had booked the great war feature "One Day of War: Russia" March of Time for the Cameron Theatre on Thursday and Friday, March 25 and 26.

In a foreword to this two-reel subject, commentator Westbrook Van Voorhis states that the Editors of the March of Time consider it "the most outstanding factual film to come out of this war." Those who see "One Day of War" will agree with the Editors. For the first time, the American public can see authentic, dramatic and exclusive pictures of the life-and-death struggle between Russia and Germany. There are realistic battle scenes, struggles between men and tanks; scenes behind the front, in factories, in mines, in the Baku oilfields. Some gruesome close-ups of victims—one a little boy—may prove too much for hypersensitive spectators, especially women. But this is war—war for survival—and only through such realistic and revealing scenes can one get an idea of the almost super-human courage of the Runssia people to fight for the country they love. More than any pictures that have thus far come out of the Soviet Union, these jolt the spectator into actual realization of the magnificent fight being waged by the Russians to destroy the Nazi invaders.

$49.50 Collected by Daily Herald for The Reyes Family

The sum of $49.50 was collected through the columns of the Daily Herald for the Reyes family here and early Tuesday $49.50 in cash was turned over to Jim McGoldrick, commander of the American Legion for delivery to the Reyes family.

The sum of $6.00 was paid direct to the family and was not included in the cash delivered, however the names were published in the daily.

A total of over $86 in cash was given, including the amount raised at the Legion Birthday Party here last week.

In addition citizens gave the family furniture, bed clothing and clothing, the amount of which we have no way to estimate but all valuable contributions and welcomed by the family.

The Reyes home was destroyed and their two babies perished in the flames. The Herald is happy to have had a small part in this subscription.

Commander McGoldrick said the family is deeply grateful for this aid.

The Herald thanks the American Legion for lending its name to the campaign conducted in these columns and thanks Gus Evans for suggesting the collection.

Previously un-reported contributions came in late yesterday and this morning: Womack Brashear $1, P. W. Davis $1 and Miss Lucy Bailey $1.

Powdered Juices Replace Coffee

Powdered lemon juice and cocoa have been substituted for coffee in two of the three canned packages of the B unit in the soldiers' emergency field ration "C," the war department announces. This change will save two-thirds the amount of metal formerly used since coffee had to be packed in an individual container to preserve it. The lemon juice and cocoa powders will be wrapped in cellophane. The contents of each package is sufficient to make one pint of beverage. As a protection against rust, the outsides of "C" ration cans are now being enameled.

Gause Man One of 7 to Get Air Medal

Sgt. Jesse H. Critchfield of Gause, is one of seven Texas fliers to be awarded air medals for recent flights in the troop ferry command.

The men of the United States Army Air Corps were decorated for their part in operating troop carrying planes at night from England to North Africa on November 7 and 8, 1942.

Included in the number to receive the air medals are four commissioned officers and 3 non-commissioned officers.

The mission was the longest massed, unescorted non-stop troop carrier flight ever successfully performed by the United States Army Air Corps.

Sgt. Critchfield was born and reared at Gause and has many friends in Cameron.

From L. S. Cunningham at Gause comes the information that Sgt. Critchfield is the grand son of Mrs. C. S. Critchfield of Gause.

Mrs. Critchfield has eight grand sons and one son in the armed forces, a grand record for one family. All Milam county is proud of these Gause patriots and the Herald thanks Mr. Cunningham for this information.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR GEORGE E. DITTO HELD

Funeral services for George Elgin Ditto, 60, widely known citizen of Milam county, who died at his home in Gause on Thursday, March 18, 1943, were held there on Friday afternoon at the Baptist Church, with interment in the Gause Cemetery.

Mr. Ditto had been in failing health for several months. Friends here and over the county were not prepared for the sad news of his death. He had not been active for some years.

George Elgin Ditto was born at Union Grove, Ala., on January 27, 1883 the son of Hood and Martha Ditto.

The family moved to Texas from the Alabama home when George was a small boy. They settled at Hanover in Milam county where deceased resided for many years, later moving to Cameron where he was married to Mrs. Mattie Springer who now survives him.

Leaving their hotel business in Cameron Mr. and Mrs. Ditto moved to their ranch near Gause on Highway 69 and continued to make their home at this place. He died there at the age of 60 years on Thursday, March 18, 1943.

Surviving, besides his widow, are one brother, Ike Ditto of Hanover; and one sister, Mrs. L. M. Draper of Little Rock, Arkansas. He also leaves a number of nieces and nephews.

Mr. Ditto early embraced the faith of the Methodist church. He united with the Methodist church at Liberty when he was 11 years of age and his membership reamined with the little church in the oaks until it was disbanded years ago. Near by is the historic Liberty cemetery and the scenes of his early childhood in Texas.

Friends here extend to his widow and relatives sincere sympathy.

CARD OF THANKS

Health Clean Up Week

Governor Coke Stevenson has issued a proclamation asking the observance of the week of April 4th to April 10th as Health and Clean-Up Week.

We urge that this annual clean-up should be conducted to remove fly and mosquito breeding places, help eliminate the spread of other diseases and prevent fires. No doubt a vigorous clean up will also yield much material that will be valuable to the war effort.

This effort to be successful depends upon each one of us to do his part.

LELAND GREEN, Mayor.
DR. T. E. CRUMP, City Health Officer.
